BRIEF INTRODUCTION

ABOUT US

Founded in 2011 and based in Bangalore, Karnataka, India, SSS is a privately held company leading in design, manufacturing and installation of kitchen ventilation systems and stainless steel kitchen equipment for the professional kitchen.

Southern Stainless Steel Fabrications India., is closely associated to Vianen Kitchen Ventilation who is a leader in the field of professional kitchen ventilation since 1979. We operate from Bangalore and our aim is to offer you products and services that are of the highest standard (equal to European standards) at extremely competitive rates.

We work closely with consultants, mechanical contractors, hotel and restaurant owners and other professionals in the catering industry. Our goal is to maintain a good working relation with all of our customers providing good service in both sales and after sales. Our local team in Bangalore and Delhi takes care of any enquiries you have.

OUR SERVICE AND QUALITY COMMITMENT

Our people are committed as a team who are fully supported by our European partner.

We work fairly and equitably with our customers, suppliers and employees to promote mutual growth. We are dedicated to a long-term commitment to excellence and to the continuous improvements in quality and service.

Our sales department is prepared to help you with professional advice and information, and our office staff is ready with computerized efficiency to answer any questions. Our total commitment philosophy penetrates all areas of our operation.

OUR FACILITIES AND EQUIPMENT

SSS uses the most advanced CAD / CAM programming systems available.

From AutoCAD and SOLID Works, which enable us to excel in our industry and allows us to draw, design, rotate, flip mirror parts, and integrate other parts into one program.

This utilizes materials in the most efficient manner, reducing the unit price, to make the item more competitive, and even allows us to nest multiple parts, punch in sample components to check for accuracy, thereby eliminating the waste of materials.

SSS has developed its own proprietary software which totally connects our engineering programs to our turret presses via "DNC".

In today's highly competitive market, we at SSS Fabrications guarantee to translate your concepts into reality in the fastest, most high quality manner possible. Together with our expert staff and full range of precision metal working capabilities, we can help create and manufacture to your needs.

From precision sheet metal fabrication and machining to finishing and assembly - using our experience to meet the pricing and timing needs of modern business. Using the latest technological advancements in machinery, we insure your product is created exactly how you envisioned it, allowing you to spend that time and energy where it belongs - focusing on your customers. Get started today; email us your drawings for immediate computer generated quotes. SSS is unique in the area, providing a wide range of technical and manufacturing services in one company. Our plant is staffed with experienced technicians who realize the need for accurate and innovative services, but maintain an awareness of the reality of production schedules and deadlines. SSS Fabrications is the best choice for your next manufactured and precision machined product. Our website www.sss-india.in provides detailed information about our manufacturing facility, products and services, including brochures that detail the different products and services that you can make use of in case you decide to do business with us.
